Assalaamu-alaikum

Editorial

CCN is a Crescents of Brisbane initiative designed as a service to the members of the Crescents community. The slogan “fostering a healthy Brisbane lifestyle through sport, entertainment, education and culture” embodies the aims and aspirations of this newsletter (and the organization as a whole), and within these broad parameters CCN can become a forum for disseminating information on a variety of issues. A quickly drawn up shortlist of items that could fall within the ambit of these guidelines might include local events (mosques, seminars, fund raisers, fetes, movies, visiting speakers etc); personal events (weddings, birthdays, arrivals, departures, deaths, etc.); business matters (buying, selling, new ventures, special offers, garage sales, etc.); overseas news; local sporting news; views and reviews (books, movies, letters to the editor, etc.); community achievements and initiatives; health and food matters..... and the list goes on.

So, the quality and content of CCN will be largely dependent on your contributions and we look forward to being inundated with interesting and exciting news from you.

However, please note that CCN reserves the right to exercise its discretion as to what gets published finally.

Algester Eid Lunch

Kuraby Madressah Fundraising BBQ

The BBQ will be held on Sunday 28 November at the Wally Tate Park (next to the Kuraby Masjid in Kuraby). There will be food and clothing stalls and entertainment for the children starting at 10am and an auction at 1.30pm. Tickets are $15 (single) and $50 (family). You can contact Naziem Kapadi for more information.

Crescents Run/Walk for Life

A lot more it would seem!

CNN has received several messages of support for its planned weekly programme. In answer to some of the questions sent in: you can bring along a stroller; you do not have to be at peak fitness to start the programme (we will get you there!); you do the walk/run at your own pace either individually or with a group of your level; it is a weekly non-competitive group activity (and there are no prizes or positions); you choose your own distance to start with and move on to the next one when you feel ready; only those between the ages of 0 and 120 are eligible to take part (all other applicants will have to be approved by a special sitting committee of the editorial board ☺).

See you all there on Sunday 21st at 7.30am

Eid Mubarak

The team at CCN and Crescents of Brisbane wishes you and your family a very joyous and happy Eid-ul-Fitr. May all your good deeds and duas over the month of Ramadaan be accepted, inshaAllah.
